DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-6, 8-14, and 27, drawn to a state of polarization aberration detector, classified in class 356, subclass 515.
- II. Claim 7, drawn to image correction, classified in class 356, subclass 124.
- III. Claims 15-21, drawn to a shearing polarization analyzer, classified in class 356, subclass 521.
- IV. Claims 22-26, drawn to a polarization analyzer, classified in class 356, subclass 364.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:

Inventions I and (III or IV) are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because polarization analyzers without the beam shaping optics found in claims 15-26 can be used. The subcombination has separate utility such as any general polarization analyzer applied to polarization detection not limited to optical system analysis.

Inventions II and (III or IV) are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because claim 7 is not limited to polarization correction. The subcombination has separate utility such as any general polarization analyzer applied to polarization detection not limited to optical system analysis.

Inventions I and II are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention II has separate utility such as correction of any type of optical system. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Inventions III and IV are related as subcombinations disclosed as usable together in a single combination. The subcombinations are distinct from each other if they are shown to be separately usable. In the instant case, invention III has separate utility such as grating type shearing interferometer. See MPEP § 806.05(d).

Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification, have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter, and the search required for Group I is not required for Groups II, III, or IV, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).
